Lauri Olson Named Miss Grayling

MISS GRAYLING 1965 — Lauri Olson, Grayling High School senior, center, seated on her throne. She was crowned last Friday night by Wayne Clark of Lansing. Miss Olson will serve her community at various functions throughout the coming year. Flanking her is her court. From left to right are: Karen Mauren, Cheryl Smock, Pamela Gibson and Martel Bobenmoyer. Miss Bobenmoyer served as the Queen of the recent 1965 Crawford County Auto Show and was also the Homecoming Queen for Grayling High at their homecoming festivities two weeks ago.

Miss Lauri Olson, daughter of Mrs. Anne Olson and Neil Olson, was crowned Miss Grayling 1965 at the Sophomore sponsored dance at the Grayling High School gym Friday night following the football game. Wayne Clark of Lansing, in the public relations and sales promotion field, placed the crown upon the new queen's head. Lauri succeeds Miss Marcia Sorenson, Miss Grayling 1964.

Named to the queen's court were Cheryl Smock (first runner-up), daughter of the Don Smocks, Martel Bobenmoyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Bobenmoyer, Karen Mauren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Mauren and Pamela Gibson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Schuyler Gibson. The young ladies were chosen from a field of eleven seniors from Grayling. Applications had been mailed to seniors from Frederic and Lovells but none responded.

They were judged Friday afternoon at Chief Shoppens Motor Hotel first by group interview and then by individual talks. The applicants were designated by number only, their names having been removed from the applications and a number assigned instead.

Judges were A. Barry McGuire of Bay City, E.M.T.A. Publicity Director; Charles Welch, Higgins Lake, Regional Information Officer of the Department of Conservation; Gordon Everett, Publisher of the Northern Star, Grayling; Mrs. Charles Oppy, Roscommon; Mrs. Ebb Warren, Grayling.

The new Miss Grayling will represent Crawford County at all scheduled special events in the coming year until September 1st. Master of Ceremonies at the coronation Friday evening was City Councilman, Whitely Madsen. In charge of the selection of this year's queen was the Winter Sports Committee, named by the Chamber of Commerce last April, with Mrs. Walter Truettner and Melvin Nielson as general chairmen. Mrs. Nielson was chairman of the Queen's Committee, with Mrs. Herbert Wolff and Mrs. Ella Wilcox in charge of decorations. Mrs. Olson held three classes for the applicants for queen in the past week. Mrs. Wolff and Mrs. Wilcox created the queen's throne, with its fan-shaped background of green and white, which dominated the stage at the dance.

AID TO VETERANS

Thomas Mitchell of the Veterans Administration will be in Grayling the 2nd Wednesday of the month from 10 to 4 at the Courthouse. He will advise men and women for service in and/or their dependents as to any benefits to which they may be entitled. There is no charge for this service.

ATTENTION ALL LEGIONAIRES

We will hold our annual Legion Veterans' Day party Wednesday, Nov. 11th, food and refreshments will be furnished. We had a swell time at our last Legion party, and plan on making this one even better. You are all invited and requested to bring your wife or friend with you. This party is for both Legionnaires and Auxiliary members.

Attention! Residents of Frederic, Maple Forest Twps.

The Frederic Volunteer Fire Department now has available, a window safety sticker for use in marking sleeping quarters and/or areas of confinement in the home. It is a light orange colored decal to be placed on the outside of the window. It will be out or reach if a fire occurs. It is free of charge. These safety stickers are free for

Art Clough Wins Sheriff Race

Junior Class Play November 13th

The Junior Class play, "The Curious Savage," a three-act comedy by John Patrick, will be presented to the public Friday, November 13, at 8 p. m. in the Grayling High gym. The play is being directed by Carl Minor, High School Forensic and Drama Coach. Admission of 75c for adults, 35c for students with pre-schoolers free, has been set by the class.

EMTA Travel Show Planning Meet Today

A meeting today (Thursday) at the Chief Shoppens Motor Hotel in Grayling will be held at noon at which representatives from Chambers of Commerce throughout the area will be attending.

The session has been called by James H. Hall, secretary-manager of the Eastern Michigan Tourist Association in conjunction with Harry Collins, manager of the Otsego County Chamber of Commerce.

Ways and means will be discussed as how best for the area and the individual communities to use the many and various travel shows to be held in several metropolitan areas between January 1st and May 31st.

The shows provide tourist-vacation customers for the entire Eastern Michigan area, Mr. Hall said. The shows also provide an excellent opportunity to meet these vacation planning families and to sell them on coming to our "Playtime Country" and specifically to a certain community, Mr. Hall added.

Students Halloween Party Held Last Saturday

The students of Grayling High school should be commended for their fine participation in the Halloween Party, Saturday, Oct. 31. Nearly everyone came in "some type of costume. Many of the students took part in the various games.

The door prize was won by Kristine Glander. The best dressed girl and boy selected by a panel of judges were Dianne Elenbaas and Kyle Slusser.

The 7th grade earned $5.00 for their class by winning the greatest number of points for games won.

The students consumed 15 cases of pop and approximately 35 dozen fried cakes.

A special "thank you" to the following organizations and people is in order —

The P.T.A. for buying the pop and prizes, St. Mary's Men's Club for furnishing the fried cakes, individuals from the P.T.A., Mrs. DuBois and Mrs. Knibbs for buying prizes and handling the door prize; Mrs. James Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Burns, Mr. and Mrs. Carol Wert, Mr. and Mrs. John Gellick; the men teachers for helping to serve and clean-up and Joe LaGrow for playing the records.

Special mention might be made about the fine decorations. Some members of Mr. Bufo's art classes and Mr. Bufo spent most of Saturday decorating the gym for this occasion.

During the course of the evening a number of parents arrived to view the activities.

It would be difficult to give an exact number of students who attended the party, but a conservative estimate would be 200.

Grayling Man Found Guilty On Traffic Charge

Clarence R. Holcomb of Grayling was found guilty of a traffic charge by a six man Justice Court jury in a Justice Court trial held before Justice of the Peace Olin Williamson on Thursday, October 29. Justice Williamson fined the defendant $85, $15 costs, or 90 days in the county jail. In that 10 days are allowed for filing of an appeal to Circuit Court, which it was significant might happen, Holcomb was freed on a $100 bond.

The defendant was arrested on October 22 by Sheriff Arthur Clough on a charge of overtaking and passing a stopped school bus. He was arraigned before Justice Williamson the same day and entered a plea of not guilty. He was released at that time on a $100 bond until the trial date.

NOTICE

The GHS Seniors and Juniors are selling the new Yearbook, $3. The School Library has a rack of paperbacks to sell.

Allen Stephan Laid to Rest

Funeral services for Allen Stephan were held Saturday, October 31, 1964, at 2 o'clock at the Michelson Memorial Methodist church, with the Rev. John W. Smith officiating. Music and solo were by Mrs. Arthur Feldhauser. Burial was in the Stephan family cemetery down river, under the auspices of the American Legion Grayling 1 Post 106. Pallbearers were Byron Wight, Bernard Hinkle, Eugene Kaiser, Allen Leng, Kenneth Newberry, Morden Post.

Mr. Stephan passed away in the hospital at Fort Lauderdale, Florida, on Monday, October 26, 1964, following a heart attack suffered at his home there. He was 35. The body was brought here for burial in the family plot.

Survivors besides his wife, the former Arla Barber, are one son, Jeffery, and four daughters, Linda, Christine, Holly and Kim, all at home, two brothers, Norman of Grayling and Ray of Fort Lauderdale, two sisters, Zina Vallad and Hella Halford, of Grayling, his mother, Mrs. John Stephan and grandmother, Mrs. John Knecht.

Among those here to attend the services were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Oakes and Mrs. John West, Clio, Mrs. John Ruckey and daughter Fern of Fenton, Mrs. Lois Barnes of Fenton, Mrs. Lois Barnes of Fenton, Mrs. Lois Barnes of Fenton.

Grayling Jayvees End Season With Victory

Coach Franklin Smith's Grayling High junior varsity ended their 1964 football season last Thursday night against the Roscommon reserve team on the local gridiron under the lights with a 16 to 0 win.

After a scoreless first quarter, Grayling got rolling in the second frame and David Bailey took the ball on a reverse and went 30 yards to score. Paul King added the extra point on a line plunge and the half ended 7 to 0.

In the third quarter, Tom Hatfield from his defensive end spot caught a Roscommon baller carrier in the little Buck's end zone adding a safety to the Grayling score, making it 9 to 0.

In the fourth quarter, David Bailey again added to the little Vikings score with a 50 yard scamper around end for the second Grayling touchdown. Paul King again added the point on a line plunge.

The Grayling defensive unit capped that Governor George Romney's dismissal of Major General Ronald D. McDonald, State Adjutant General, Brig. General Carson-L. Niefert, State Quartermaster General and Lt. Col. Versal Case Jr., executive officer for the Quartermaster General, was an illegal act.

Since that time, facts in the case have been obscured by political charges back and forth from one camp to the other. With the election over this week, it was expected that possible further action in the case, in which the three officers were dismissed on Oct. 8th, might be brought to a legislative investigation or before a military court martial.

Woman's Club

The Grayling Woman's Club met Monday at the clubhouse with 2nd vice-president Mrs. John Ludeman presiding in the absence of the president.

The Christmas Bazaar date will be Saturday, December 5th only, due to the Friday night basketball game conflict.

New club members are Mrs. Ronald Fay, and Mrs. Wilfred Vigneux. Mrs. Roy Wedge was a guest.

Lunch hostesses were Miss Margaret Douglas and Mrs. Matt Edson. The centerpiece was pictures of both presidential candidates along with flags and red tapers.

Education Week Is November 8th To 14th

American Education Week will be celebrated this year next week, November 8 through 14. The Grayling Public Schools usually mark the week with an "open-house" but this year have decided to hold off.

The reconstruction in the junior high and high school building has not all been completed, High School principal Elmer Fenton said, so the decision was reached to not hold the open-house at this time. A tentative date for the "open house" at the old building has been slated as Monday, December 7th. It is expected by this date that all phases of remodeling in the old building will have been completed.

Frederic P-TA Monday

The Frederic P-TA will meet Monday evening, November 9th, at the Frederic school, following the Book Fair which will be held there in the afternoon and evening. This will be an opportunity to see the new books and order some for Christmas gifts. Please take advantage of this special event. Everyone is welcome to attend.

CHAMBER BOARD TO MEET IN FREDERIC

The next regular meeting of the Crawford County Chamber of Commerce will be held at the Frederic Town Hall on Thursday, November 12th, at 7:00 o'clock. All Frederic citizens are invited to attend.

County Vote Widely Split On Candidates Of Both Parties

RECORD 2,160 CAST BALLOTS ON TUESDAY

In the lone race in Crawford County, incumbent Republican Sheriff Arthur E. Clough defeated his Democratic opponent, Harold O. Duncan, Beaver Creek Township restaurant operator by the wide margin of 1,329 votes to 791 in unofficial tallies.

In one of the most heavily voted elections ever held in Crawford County, electors went in for ticket splitting on a scale never known before. Except in the presidential and gubernatorial races, there does not appear to be any pattern whatsoever.

President Lyndon B. Johnson and his running mate, Senator Hubert Humphrey ran up a total of 1,464 to only 696 for Senator Barry Goldwater and his running mate, Representative William Miller. However, in the race for Governor and Lt. Governor, incumbent George Romney and State Senator William Millikin totaled 1,328 to 805 to U.S. Representative Neil Stachler and his running mate Robert A. Dorengoski.

United States Representative Elford A. Cederberg topped his Democratic opponent, Hubert Evans by a 1,165 to 878 total. Guy Vander Jagt running for State Senator on the Republican ticket got 1,071 votes to 899 for Eugene J. Gershon.

In contrast, in the race for State Representative, Nelson Tisdale, the Republican incumbent in the 103rd District received but 914 votes to 1,015 for Earl T. Miller, his Democratic opponent.

In the races for State Board of Education posts, trustees and Governors of Michigan State University, the results were very mixed, although it was understood that on a state-wide basis, the Democratic candidates won in a sweep.

All county officers, running unopposed, were returned to office with votes totaling from as high as 1,458 to a low of 1,279. The proposition ballot to establish use of a Massachusetts type ballot was defeated in the county 1,132 to 896.

In the Sheriff's race, Democratic candidate Duncan took only one precinct in the county as he turned back Sheriff Clough in South Branch Township by a 87 to 61 margin. From there on the present Sheriff won in every precinct, although several were very close. In Beaver Creek Township, Clough managed only a 83 to 78 edge and in Frederic Township only held a 101 to 98 margin. In Grayling Township, Sheriff Clough ran up a 423 to 214 margin and in Lovells Township was about 2 to 1 on a 37 to 29 total. The winner-managed a 58 to 36 lead in Maple Forest Township and in the City of Grayling in Precinct One led 268 to 124 and in Precinct Two by a 278 to 127 difference.

Emil L. Kraus, running unopposed for Crawford County Probate Judge, totaled 1,568 ballots.

Guard Firings Termed Illegal

Over the weekend, Michigan's Attorney General Frank Kelly ruled that Governor George Romney's dismissal of Major General Ronald D. McDonald, State Adjutant General, Brig. General Carson-L. Niefert, State Quartermaster General and Lt. Col. Versal Case Jr., executive officer for the Quartermaster General, was an illegal act.

Since that time, facts in the case have been obscured by political charges back and forth from one camp to the other. With the election over this week, it was expected that possible further action in the case, in which the three officers were dismissed on Oct. 8th, might be brought to a legislative investigation or before a military court martial.

Change Date For M. M. Christmas Fair

The date for the Christmas Fair at the Michelson Memorial Methodist church has been changed from Friday and Saturday to Saturday only, December 5th, because of the basketball game on the preceding night.

The Fair, sponsored by the W. S. C. S. and Woman's Club, will open its doors at 1 o'clock, and remain open until late in the evening. A plate lunch will be available for anyone who wish it. Lovely gifts will be displayed at the booths, and one from the Far East will feature embroidered blouses, handwork and kimonos direct from Hong Kong.

Due to the graciousness of local merchants, door prizes will be awarded all day.

Ladies of both organizations are very busy preparing for this Fair and will have a fine selection to offer the public.

Wilma Ludeman

One Bear, One Bow, One Arrow . . . Scratch One Elephant

Fred Bear, president of the Bear Archery Company and probably America's best and best-known bowhunter, has taken enough big game with his bow to fill a museum — which is exactly what he has done at his Grayling, Michigan, plant. But, through the years, he has stoutly maintained that the animal he loved to hunt were afternoon. — The day began at 5 a. m. Fred's party, Sans Godfrey who is primarily a gunhunter and was off on a mission of his own, took to the trail around 6 o'clock. A quarter-hour later the party halted while one of the natives performed a brief ceremony that involved calling upon the spirits of his ancestors to guide the hunt successfully.

What happened next — the final payoff after a long and wearying series of frustrations and misadventures — is best described by Fred Bear himself. Here are some excerpts from his personal diary.

"On our way again we soon ran into a redbuck and immediately after this a herd of about 25 buffalo ran off with a great crashing of brush at the sight of us. Unfortunately, the elephant was just ahead of this and they also ran off out of sight. We tried to catch up with them walking fast and sometimes running, but it was twelve miles and three and a half hours later before we found them again. By this time the herd had grown in number to about 200. This seemed to be the place for this large group to gather for their midday siesta under the shade of the trees in the valley.

"We were in brush that did not cover us completely, and the elephants were lined up, three and four deep, for a third of a mile or more. There were big ones, small ones, and medium-sized ones all moving at a slow pace toward the trees. Down wind from them we managed to move up to about 100 yards, crouching down and running part of the time. There was a large elephant towards the rear, but it had no tusks at all. Others had tusks which varied in size but nothing too exciting as far as we could see.

"Fish (Bear's Portuguese professional hunter), Halmi and I planned to work in close to the line and pick out the best bull we could find, but we were suddenly confronted with unexpected problems. Two scouts from the rear of the herd either saw us or sensed that something was wrong and cut out of the line to investigate and to get down wind from us. They came straight towards us, big ears extended and flapping, trunks in the air, moving quietly as elephants do.

"Our native boys and the head-man with a 375 realized the danger and warned us with a low whistle before scattering into the bush in hopes of finding a tree big enough to climb. Just before they fled I saw the terrified expression on the gunbearer's face and was about to ask him for the rifle, but he got away too fast. Fish had his gun at ready as we also took off. Fish had never seen so many elephants at one time, he told us.

"The two scouts in the herd had caught our scent, but how they got the message to the rest of the herd, which ran off into the trees, was one of marvels of nature that man has no way of determining. "With elephants out of sight, we reorganized our group. The natives held a meeting and came back with the decision: 'To many elephants. We all get killed.' So they stayed behind while Bob, Fish and I circled again, making sure to stay down wind, and went into the forest. Almost immediately four or five elephants came our way led by a good bull. He did not have big tusks but was a large elephant. The bull stopped behind some bushes, and we froze beside our cover at the edge of a clearing across from him. The bull's tusks stuck out of his trunk about two feet. Fish whispered to me: 'Shoot him.' I could not shoot him, of course, until he moved from behind the bushes, and even then it meant that I had to step out into the open before drawing my bow. Bob was in proper camera position behind me and the suspense was unbearable. In what seemed like an eternity the bull started moving out across the opening about 140 yards away. I stepped out from behind my cover, and the bull turned his head to look at me. I am not sure whether he was walking or standing still when I shot. The film will tell the story.

"The arrow entered at the elevation I had intended it to, but farther back than I wished. He and his group ran off. We heard other elephants near us and were relieved that they did not choose to come. I knew I had a killing shot but did not know how far the bull could travel. We rounded up the natives and sat down to rest away from the trouble area. After fifteen minutes we decided to take the trail. The natives held another conference, and their decision was again 'no.' Fish was able to convince them after some time, however, to stay with us.

"The trail was not hard to follow. There was plenty of blood, but after about 200 yards of traveling we heard a sinister, heavy, blowing and a hundred yards ahead an enormous elephant's head showed up over a bush. Again the natives scattered, and again we had to reassemble them over their protests about continuing the trail. After the elephant had gone off into the trees, Fish did another selling job to get them to come with us. We trailed the bull I'd shot for another two hundred yards and then ran into more elephants.

"This time nothing could convince the natives to continue on. Besides this, we had no water and were twelve miles from the nearest village. The sun was hot, the temperature about 90 degrees. Both Fish and I had blisters on our feet. Savo (the native who had earlier called upon his ancestors) finally convinced us to turn back saying he would send two men on bicycles to ride the game trails at daybreak and find our elephant. The village needed meat badly, and Fish assured me that they would do this. This is the first time I have ever left a blood trail, but common sense told me to turn back. We detoured around two more groups of elephants before reaching the village at 3 p. m. Everyone was exhausted and badly in need of water.

"The search was resumed the next morning, and Fred's bull elephant was found about 200 yards from where the party had left the trail the afternoon before. The giant pachyderm had died on his belly without rolling over. One tusk was buried in the sand. Fred's arrow had gone in some twenty inches and done great damage to the liver. — The elephant's weight was estimated at 4 tons. The tusks at 35 to 40 pounds each. It took 15 men to lift the head, trunk and tusks.

Another paragraph from Fred's diary sheds on an interesting sidelight on the hunt.

"When an elephant is down, word goes out to the villages nearby and the entire populace comes to get a share of the meat. Every man has a knife with which he hacks and cuts at the carcass at top speed, hoping to get a lion's share before it is all gone. The women carry the meat off in their woven grass baskets, biting off pieces to eat as they go. It is remarkable to see how fast the enormous hulk of an elephant can be reduced to practically nothing by these meat-hungry people."

Fred Bear's next target? Not even he is sure. He plans a return visit to Mozambique in '65. Too, his eyes gleam and his nostrils flare just the barest bit at the mention of polar bear. Whatever it is, it would be well advised to pick up a Bear bow and learn how to shoot back because the man who makes those bows believes in testing them the hard way.

Not "Painless" . . .

Many a motorist grumbles at the price of gasoline. It's gone steadily up, he thinks, and he may suspect that the oil companies are gouging him.

Well, like so many other more or less common beliefs, this is a misconception. Gasoline is one of the very few products in general use which costs less now than it did some years ago. It's actually cheaper than distilled water.

If that is true, why must we pay more per gallon for it? The answer lies in one little word: taxes. Gasoline taxes, both state and federal, have been raised time and time again. The result is that when you pay $3 for a tank full of gas you're getting only $2 worth. The other dollar disappears into the tills of the tax collectors.

No other necessity — and few out and out luxuries — bear so heavy a sales tax. Yet in various states movements are afoot to add still another penny or so. And there are always efforts, some of which have been successful, to divert gasoline tax revenues from the purpose for which they are supposedly levied — that is, road building and maintenance.

The motorist is going to have to make his weight felt in no uncertain way if further inroads into his heavily depreciated dollar are to be blocked. And, on occasion, he has done just that. Last March, for instance, Wisconsin voters dealt with a proposal to raise that state's gas tax from six to seven cents per gallon in a referendum. Nearly a million people voted — and about 85 per cent said No.

It has been argued that the gas tax is "painless." Maybe that was true in the long ago, when it was very small. But there's plenty of pain in it now. The hope is that public sentiment will stop it from becoming still worse.

New Look In Banking . . .

There is an ancient and stale joke concerning a banker who had a glass eye. The point of it was that you could readily tell the false eye from the real one because it was much the kindlier and warmer.

Whether there was an element of symbolic truth in this, in the long ago, is a matter of opinion. But it certainly has no aptness nowadays. For banking, along with so many other things, has undergone a complete overhaul — an overhaul that applies not only to the breadth of its services but to its attitude.

We have entered the era of what is known as full-service banking. This simply means that banks are able and eager to provide loans, at moderate rates of interest, for just about every legitimate purpose. Not every loan can be approved — law and policy, properly and necessarily, make it obligatory to say a polite NO in various instances. But the bankers recognize that credit makes the modern world go round, and that their function is to furnish it with a minimum of red tape and paper work. It is a friendly system, devised to help and not hinder, and its beneficial impact on this nation is enormous.

Even the appearance of banks has been swiftly changing. As new buildings go up and old ones are expanded and modernized there is less and less austerity. They become more comfortable, as well as more efficient, places in which the business of every kind of depositor and borrower can be dealt with in a pleasant atmosphere. Yes, there is a new look in banking, in all of its varied facets.

Interesting Events In Grayling 23 Years Ago

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE FILES OF THE AVANCE OF 23 YEARS AGO

November 6, 1941

Huge tractor graders are more than humming at the McNamara airport as they cut away mounds of earth and carry it to low places in order to provide a level field. There are 300 acres and when the improvements are complete it will be one of Michigan's finest airports. The project is sponsored by the Michigan National guard and the Michigan State Department of Aeronautics. Don C. Pyle is project superintendent representing the W. P. A. Between 60 and 70 men are now on the job daily. Runways will be built diagonally from center to corner of the field, one 1/4 mile and the other 1/2 mile in length. These will be 150 feet in width. There will be 146 acres to be seeded and fertilized, and 5,400 square yards to be sodded. The total cost of the improvement project will be approximately $250,000.

On a rain-soaked field last Saturday Grayling High school's football team battled Charlevoix to a 0-0 tie in a hard-fought game to annex the coveted title in the Northern Class C Conference. For Grayling it means an undefeated season marked only by two ties. A big hole will be left at end where this year's captain, Herb McDonnell, has been playing, and the guard and tackle slots will be hard hit by the loss of Gorman and Bill Sorenson. All three of these boys have been on the squad since football was started in 1939.

Members and their families of the Grayling Lutheran church tendered a farewell party to Rev. P. C. Stockhold and family, who left Grayling Tuesday to reside in Marquette, Nebraska, where the former will take the pastorate of a church there. However, their daughter Kirsten will remain in Grayling for a time.

Illuminated only by candlelight, the Grayling Lutheran church was the scene of the marriage on Sunday of Elna Mae Sorenson and Charles Wilfred Moshier. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herluf Sorenson and the groom the son of Mrs. Hattie Moshier and the late William Moshier. Rev. Wesley Samuelson of Hobart, Indiana, a cousin of the bride, officiated at the service at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Samuelson sang "O Promise Me" with Miss Ingeborg Hanson at the organ. Mildred Hanson was the maid of honor and Evarie Samuelson bridesmaid. William Moshier of Detroit was his brother's best man and Robert Sorenson, a cousin of the bride, and Clement Blaine acted as the ring bearers. The ceremony was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Dr. Alvar Rautalahti heard the exchange of nuptial vows between Miss Jenny Wirtanen and Roy Kanisto in the Finnish Lutheran parsonage Saturday at Waukegan, Illinois. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Wirtanen of Grayling, her husband the son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Kluttig, Crystal Falls, Michigan. The bride's sister, Mrs. Sherman Childs, was her attendant. The bridegroom was attended by Frank Kuntar, brother-in-law of the bride. Fifty guests were received by the couple at the Kuntar home in the evening.

Miss Louise Annis was home from Heaney's Commercial College, Grand Rapids, last weekend. Dr. and Mrs. C. G. Clippert and daughter Billyann attended Homecoming at M. S. C., East Lansing, Saturday. They saw the Missouri-Michigan State football game.

Mrs. Lorne Douglas of Saskatchewan, Canada, arrived Friday to spend a few weeks with her mother, Mrs. Ellen Failing and sisters, Mrs. Esbern Olson and Mrs. Earl Wood.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cliff have returned from Chicago where they have been residing for several months. Mr. Cliff, who is employed by the National Log Construction Company, has been transferred to Grayling and they plan to remain here.

Bill and Mary Jane Joseph of Lansing spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Joseph.

Jack Redhead, Jr., of Tri-State College, Angola, Indiana, spent last weekend with his parents.

Mrs. Helen Routier of Detroit spent the weekend with her mother and sister Mrs. H. A. Bauman and Miss Bauman. Tuesday Mrs. Bauman and Mrs. Routier left by motor for Salisbury, North Carolina, to visit Mrs. Bauman's daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Walter Woodson.

A deal has been consummated by the Department of Conservation for the purchase of the property on the AuSable river known as Burton's Landing, which has long been used by local people for a picnic grounds. The purchase was made of Mrs. Harry Simpson (Irene Burton) who resides in Ventura, California.

Private Carl L. Leslie of Grayling recently inducted into the Army, has been transferred with a group of 300 draftees to Camp Grant, Illinois, Medical Replacement Training, for training at that station.

Plastic oil cans is the new innovation that just came into the market. Earl Burns, owner of the local Gamble Store, just received a consignment of these oil cans and they are really good looking and seem practical. They are transparent and come in several shades of color. They are not easily broken but directions warn not to use them for alcohol or acids.

Fred Westendorf of Saginaw is the champion archer so far as we know this season. Tuesday afternoon he bagged a black bear between Roscommon and St. Helen. It weighed about 200 pounds. The day before he bagged his buck. Of course, both were shot by bow and arrow. He was traveling by motorcycle and took the bear home on the handlebars.

At the card party at St. Mary's parish hall Thursday evening the following were winners in the various card games that were played: Mrs. Alfred Hanson, Bryan Newell and Albert Charron, pinochle; Mrs. Louis Kessler, Mrs. James Lynch for 500; Mrs. Glenn Penrod, contract bridge; Mrs. Mose Woods, Mrs. David Montour, pedro; Miss Mabel Brasie, door prize.

Private First Class Perry E. Wells, of Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., enjoyed a 13-day furlough with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Wells, on the river. He leaves for Detroit today (Thursday) to visit his sister Mrs. Fred T. Ward, until Saturday when he leaves on a special train for Missouri. Mrs. Thomas J. Wells, his mother, and Mrs. Alfred Borchers, his sister, will accompany him as far as Detroit and will spend a few days there. Perry says the south may be OK for some folks, but Michigan looks mighty good to him.

46 YEARS AGO

November 7, 1918

Republicans win State offices.

Henry Ford has landslide for U. S. Senator in Crawford County. Newberry carries State.

Ernest Richardson elected sheriff.

John Niederer defeated by Andrew Hart for register of deeds. Gilbert Currie re-elected congressman.

Nels Michelson of Detroit is spending a few days in Detroit.

Little Jack and Kathleen Briscoe, children of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Briscoe, who are ill with pneumonia at Mercy Hospital, are getting along nicely at present.

Induction papers have arrived for Sheriff Cody to enter the Tank service. At the present time he is preparing for an annual hunting trip in upper Michigan and will leave here Friday. When he returns he expects to get into one of Uncle Sam's uniforms.

Agricultural College vs. University of Michigan football game scheduled for Saturday, November 23, 1918, at Ferry Field, Ann Arbor, Michigan, includes a fine photograph of Arthur Karpus, a Grayling boy. Karpus plays the position of fullback on the University team.

Floyd McClain returned home Monday morning from Florida where he left Ringling Brothers circus. He has been with this aggregation all summer, playing in their band.

The ladies who do Red Cross work are asked to come to the Red Cross rooms and assist in making pneumonia packets and face masks for our people at home here who are stricken with influenza and pneumonia. The Red Cross rooms are open each afternoon and if every lady would give but one hour it would help greatly at this time. Please come.

Last week Carl Johnson resigned from Salling Hanson company's employ as traveling salesman to enter the service. He was inducted into the aviation corps for limited service and sent to Jackson, Michigan. Fred Martin, foreman of the R. Hanson and Sons mills, was also inducted for limited service in the aviation corps and left for Detroit Sunday night. Both these young men will work in the inspection of lumber that is used in the construction of aeroplanes.

Nick Schjotz, after fifteen years of faithful service as manager of the Salling Hanson company store, resigned and left there last week. He says he is undecided just what to do. He has several offers of good positions and will look them over. Unless he accepts one of the offers, it is rumored that he will open a new store in Grayling. Mr. Schjotz has been succeeded as manager of the store by Harold Rasmussen, who has been a clerk in that place for many years.

Health Office J. S. Harrington announces that up to Tuesday noon of this week there have been 130 cases of influenza reported in Grayling. Of this number 52 have been released and four deaths have occurred.

Moose Lodge Activities
October was a busy month for us, and November is going to be no less so. Nov. 1st was the District meeting at Ludington, Nov. 6, 7, 8, is the midwinter conference at Ludington. Nov. 6th there will be a regular meeting, and a committee chairman meeting. Sun. Nov. 15th at 8:30 is an enrollment at the lodge, by our own degree team. Sat. Nov. 21st will be St. Jude's night for Alsac. Nov. 20th is meeting night, and this will also be our first social night of the year.

We also have a surprise or two planned during the month. At the enrollment on Nov. 15, about a dozen or more members of the Roy-at Oak Police Force will be enrolled, plus several from this area. This should be one of the largest enrollments so far this year.

We didn't even have standing room left at the club Saturday night. The Governor wishes to thank all those that worked so hard, and participated in the show, also the members that came to see it, to make it a success. A special thanks to Dick Johnson, our entertainment chairman, for planning the show, and for his labors in seeing that it was completed. Many members came in costume, and this added to the fun.

We only have a short while to reach our quota for our lifetime membership. Are you eligible? Just a couple weeks ago, it was announced that we were the first lodge in the state to reach our membership goal. At that time we were given another goal of 25 members. This also has nearly been reached. This proves that the Moose fraternity has more to offer than a club. It proves that we have family protection, fun, activities, friendship, and willing to give a helping hand, when ever possible. What other organization can offer more?

Mr. Provider, are you positive, that if you should be called away from this earth, that your family will be provided for, that your children will get an education, and learn a useful trade? Not just one trade, but three trades. Are you, and your wife all set for old age? Better check into it today and find out what the Moose has to offer. You might be surprised!

CARD OF THANKS
May I thank the doctors, Sisters and staff at Mercy Hospital for their care, and friends for cards, visits and gifts.
Fern Feldhauser

Lovells News

By Emma Stillwagon
Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Laurie spent a few days in Detroit visiting friends.
Jin Koernke and friends of Ann Arbor spent the weekend with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Koernke.
Verne Caid and nephew Larry McKay of Detroit visited the former's parents Mr. and Mrs. Russell Caid.
The Sunday School Halloween party was well attended. After supper, games with prizes were enjoyed by the group. Many thanks to all who donated to UNICEF.
Mr. and Mrs. Will Pochelson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wheeler of Saginaw and Mrs. Norma Wheeler of Owosso spent the weekend at their cabin.

LOVELLS HOME EXTENSION
The Lovells Home Extension Study group met at the home of Margie Harwood, Oct. 28th with eight members and three guests present. A lovely lunch was served by the hostess and co-hostesses Sophie Koernke and Hazel Koernke. The meeting opened with a roll call which was "A Food Fact." The secretary and treasurers reports were given and approved. A motion was made and approved that we give $2.00 to CARE from our treasury.

Mildred Johnson reported on the progress of the 4-H group which our club will sponsor. Mr. Karl Stearns, Supt. of the Frederic School will be in charge. It was decided to bring a collection of useful items to our next meeting to send to the patients at the Traverse State Hospital for Christmas gifts.

The four members that attended Homemakers' conference in Lansing gave a brief resume on the classes they attended and subjects they enjoyed most.
The Nov. meeting will be at the home of Mildred Johnson, Nov. 11 with a lesson on "Christmas Decorations and Ideas".

Frederic News

Mrs. Betty Nowlin

Bits O' Talk

Margrethe and Olga Nielsen and Mrs. Wilhelm Raas visited Mrs. Jess Schoonover at the Mio Nursing Home Sunday, November 1st.

The Charles Hoopers and his sister, Mrs. Laura Vonville were in Columbus, Ohio, last week to attend a retirement banquet for C. and O. railroad employees. They also visited his brother, the Albert Hoopers at Grove City and her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Glenn at Johnstown. They returned here Friday, the 30th.

Gary DuBois appeared as the Knave of Hearts in "Alive in Wonderland" put on at the Warriner Hall auditorium, Central Michigan University, in three performances October 28, 29 and 30. His mother, Mrs. Dick DuBois, Mrs. Ward Elison and Kathy, Mrs. Leonard Knibbs and Holly and Michelle and Ann Dosch, attended on Wednesday.

Thrift Shop, 407 Peninsular, 9 to 8, Fridays, 9 to noon Saturdays. Toys, furnishings and clothing.

Rosemary Decker, daughter of the Frank Deckers, Jr., celebrated her 4th birthday, November 2nd, on the day before. Fourteen little friends joined her in the afternoon from 1 to 3 o'clock for outdoor games, and indoor birthday cake, ice cream, potato chips and candy. She received many lovely gifts.

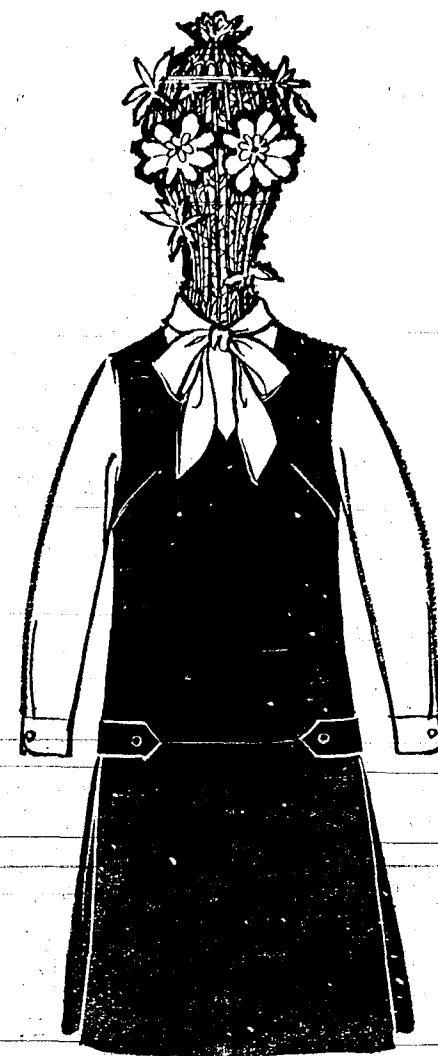

Mrs. Polly Hammond retired October 31st from her position at Baringer's store, where she has been for over the past four years. She did work for the store at her home for a couple of years before that. She is planning to go south later in the month.

Dr. B. E. Henig, Dr. Vernon Blaha, Dr. Jack Cook, Dr. Leonard Allison, Willard Cornell, Glenn Sawyer, Hal Walker and Bernard Dopp left Saturday for Pinehurst, N. Carolina, flying in from Detroit for a few days of golf. They were to return Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale A. Pettengill of Perry visited his parents, the Dale Pettengills, over the weekend. Somewhat belatedly, we report that Dawson's has new booths installed in the store.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Thompson and children Tony and Betty have purchased the Dr. Faching home on Peninsular and recently moved from Traverse City. Mr. Thompson is now employed by Cornell Agency. He was formerly with General Adjustment Company, Traverse City.

Marjorie Fosget of Lansing spent a couple of days with her parents, the Fred Niederers recently. Mr. and Mrs. Niederer were on vacation for four days recently in Canada. They visited Jim and Thelma Tinker at Brimley and the Bradstreets in Pellston on the way home.

PLANS ANNOUNCED FOR 1964 CENSUS OF AGRICULTURE IN CRAWFORD COUNTY

Plans for taking the 1964 Census of Agriculture in Crawford County were announced today by Andrew Goulder, newly-appointed census crew leader for the county.

The job will be done in three stages, the crew leader said. First will come recruitment and training of enumerators to count all farms in the county. About one enumerator for each 150 farms will be needed.

Shortly after November 5, the Bureau of the Census, an agency of the U. S. Department of Commerce, will start the second stage by mailing agricultural census questionnaires to all rural box-holders in the county. This will give farm and ranch operators, who are required by law to fill out the forms, a period of time to consult their records and fill in answers to the questions.

In the final stage, enumerators will visit each farm in the county to collect the questionnaires. At the time of this visit, the enumerators will help farmers complete answers to any questions the farmers may have had difficulty with. Enumerator visits are scheduled to begin in this county on November 9th. Enumerators will take about three weeks to complete their work, the crew leader estimates. The Census of Agriculture is taken every five years in the years ending in "4" and "9" to gather up-to-date information on the nation's agricultural resources and production. Such information is vital in making decisions affecting many segments of the U. S. economy. Data gathered include the number and size of farms, acreage and harvest of crops, livestock inventory, information on farm equipment and facilities, farm products sold, and use of fertilizers, insecticides, and herbicides.

Bridal Shower Held

Miss Judy Harwood was honored at a miscellaneous bridal shower on Monday, October 28th, at the home of Mrs. Robert Goulick with co-hostesses Mrs. Jack Harney and Miss Jill Harwood.

Games were played during the evening with prizes being won by Mrs. Harold Rasmussen, Mrs. Richard Huber, Mrs. Willard Harwood and Mrs. Betty LaChapelle. The door prize was won by Miss Judy Harwood.

Gifts for the honored guest were arranged on a table decorated with green and white streamers, white bells and colored balloons. Mrs. James LaGrow and Miss Julie Harwood assisted Judy with opening her many lovely gifts.

Tropical tuna salad, party crackers, cupcakes, mints, coffee and tea were served from a table covered with a lace cloth centered with a bridal doll standing underneath an arch of red roses and lilies-of-the-valley flanked by light green tapers. There were 34 invited guests.

Council Proceedings

Regular meeting of the City Council held on October 12, 1964, in Grayling, Michigan.

Meeting called to order by Mayor Cook at 7:30 p.m.

Members present: Cook, Duley, Madson, Cason
Members Absent: Sorenson
Citizens present: Clare Madson, Olin Williamson

The minutes of previous meeting accepted as read.

Clare Madson appeared before the Council to discuss plans for a Motel on M-72 West and asked the Council for a Building Permit. A motion was made by Cook and supported by Madson that the Building Permit for Clare Madson's Motel be issued.

YEAS: Cook, Duley, Madson, Cason
NAYS: None

Olin Williamson discussed his reasons for resigning his post as Justice of the Peace. The Council with-held action on his resignation until a later date.

A motion by Duley, supported by Cason that the second estimate of McCready and Son on the City Hall Building for $7,350.83 be allowed.

YEAS: Cook, Duley, Madson, Cason
NAYS: None

A discussion was held by the Council on the purchase of a rubber-tired front-end loader for the City. The City Manager was instructed to advertise for bids on this unit.

As there was no further business to come before the Council, the meeting was adjourned by Mayor Cook at 9:30 p.m.

City Clerk

Old Pat, the Swing Horse

By Floyd Davis

I am planning a series of short stories that are true, of a horse that pulled a milk wagon in the city of Flint, Michigan, in the thirties, and some of the experiences he and his driver had. Other articles will follow in coming weeks but first we must get the following article, on a different subject, off our chest.

I have been quite shocked lately with several reports of cruelty to horses. I can hardly realize a person having horses for several years and being around them most of the time, mistreating them. Perhaps some of the reports are stretched a little by the time they got to me, and I hope so. We do not have a "Human Society" in Crawford County, so it is up to the people who see these things to refuse to ride a horse or pony that is completely covered with sweat from having just been ridden, without a cooling off period and a rub-down. Also, you have no right to get on a horse that has open cuts, sores, unhealed hoof, open cuts, bridge sores, any more than a person owning such an animal has the right to let you. Beating a horse to make him go or whipping him is very cruel and should never be permitted by the owner or by the person riding.

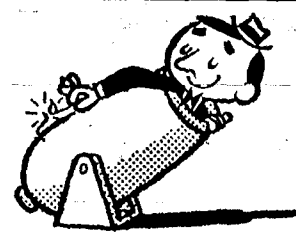

A horse that is ridden by several people is bound to get sores at times, but should be cared for, and not ridden until these wounds heal. Some inexperienced riders think they are riding correctly if they can fork a saddle, hang on in a full gallop, and blow the saddle horn when they pass another horse. Not so! A horse should be ridden only as fast as the rider can maintain complete control, and should never be ridden in a wild gallop or raced, unless by a professional rider. A horse going at this speed cannot be stopped quickly enough to avoid an unforeseen accident. A canter is a fine gait, however. This is a slow gallop under complete control and is a wonderful, comfortable ride, and a horse can go a long way without hurting him in the least.

One of the most outstanding memories I have is the time when I was about ten years old, seeing a man come up from the field at noon from working his team or mustangs all morning, and because they had not worked the way he wanted them to, he tied them up short to a fence post, took a long whip and began whipping from one end to the other, bringing out welts on their beautiful backs and now and then a streak of blood. Of course, he was cursing with every stroke. What a sight for a ten-year-old to see. I have never forgotten this ordeal, or the man that made such a horror possible.

Appetites are Sharp
It's that time of year again when appetites are sharpened and the hale and hearty in foods needs to be accented. Start out with a pot-roast, oven-braised or surface-braised with cider as the cooking liquid.

While the roast cooks, remember that we've a plentiful apple crop and nothing will taste better than apples stuffed with mince-meat, lemon rind and brown sugar before baking.

Want a kitchen type barbecue that's spooned onto buns? Break up ground beef with a potato masher and cook with onion, then add to barbecue sauce and let simmer gently for 20 to 30 minutes. Serve on toasted buns along with crisp relishes.

Tomatoes, onions, corn off the cob and peas can all go into a cooked vegetable for a scramble. Season to taste and serve.

Helen's Favorite:
Creamy French Dressing
(Makes 1 1/2 cups)
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
4 tablespoons sugar
3 tablespoons catsup
1/4 cup undiluted evaporated milk
1/2 cup oil
3 tablespoons vinegar
Measure all ingredients into mixing bowl, except vinegar. Beat with rotary beater until smooth and blended. Add vinegar all at once and beat until mixed. Dressing will be creamy and thick. Store in covered jar; refrigerate.

Legion Auxiliary News

The Grayling American Legion Auxiliary Unit 106 held its regular social party, which was a Halloween party, on Tuesday, Oct. 27. There were 22 members and four guests. Marie Scott, Ellen Bensinger, Marie McIsaac and Althea Heric present. In the dress-up contest prizes went to Betty Leslie, Juanita Gibson and Deyanne Gibson. In a hat contest with the ladies making hats out of orange and black crepe paper at the party, Amy Gothro won a prize for the best and Beryl Moore for the funniest.

In the designing of pumpkins the prize was won by guest Ellen Bensinger. The mystery prize was won by Beryl Moore. A very nice lunch was served by the committee, Jean Rasmussen, Gloria Nielson, Maureen MacNamara, Ro Billshy, Greta Chapp and Joan Rasmussen.

The Legion is having a party Wednesday, Nov. 11th and inviting the Auxiliary.

The next meeting will be a business meeting Nov. 10th, Legion Hall at 8:00 o'clock.

4-H HALLOWE'EN PARTY

The Eager Beavers 4-H Knitting Club held their third meeting Saturday afternoon, Oct. 31st, at the home of their leader, Mrs. Franz Kersch. A short business meeting included distribution of knitting bulletins and election of officers: President, Vicki Neilson; Vice-President, Karl Kersch; Secretary Betty Konvicka.

With the business completed the meeting was turned over to the spooks and goblins for the celebration of Halloween. Betty reached into her knitting bag and found decorated paper plates, cups and napkins. Like magic, food appeared. Barbara Peters brought candy. Pamela Leonard provided ice cream. Patty Nelson and Karl Kersch furnished pop and Chellilah Crawford had spent the morning making a delicious cake. Pamela's mother, Mrs. Felix Buccellato and daughter, Lori, were guests.

Grayling CMU Student Gains High Average

Mt. Pleasant — Six-hundred twenty-nine Central Michigan University students achieved cumulative averages of B or better for the spring semester 1963-64, according to Dean of Students C. M. Pike, Jr.

Seventeen of the students had 4.0 all A, averages for the semester. Among the students with cumulative averages of B or better was Karen Jean Gothro, a sophomore and daughter of the Don K. Gothros of Grayling.

Saves you time, work, and worry!

SAVES TIME: A Snow-Bird clears the average drive down to the surface in ten minutes. Jets the snow up to 30 feet away, or down beside the machine. Switch the chute direction from the handy rear control, even while Snow-Bird is in operation.

SAVES WORK: Snow-Bird's completely winterized engine starts in coldest weather with a 'spin-easy' pull, and one control shifts from neutral to forward or reverse. Snow-Bird supplies the power to do the job, and it moves ahead, straight and sure, with just your guiding touch on the handles.

SAVES WORRY: Sometimes this is the worst part of a snow storm! With a Snow-Bird ready to cope with the snow, there are no family worries about shoveling, physical strain, or injuries to health. And there are no worries about getting out! Owning a Snow-Bird is your insurance that you're out and about after every storm!

22" SNOW-BIRD $239.95
24" SNOW-BIRD $269.95
26" SNOW-BIRD $329.95
